

Asia Pacific Medical Technology Association (APACMed) joins forces with Asian Harmonization Working Party (AHWP)

The first and only regional trade association is formally accepted as Official Liaison Member of AHWP, and set to play a key role in harmonization efforts

SINGAPORE, 25 November 2016 - The Asia Pacific Medical Technology Association (APACMed), representing manufacturers and suppliers of medical equipment, devices and in vitro diagnostics, industry associations, and other key stakeholders in the medical technology industry, was today named Official Liaison member of the Asian Harmonization Working Party (AHWP), a voluntary group of regulators and industry members, whose goal is to promote harmonization of medical device regulations in the region.

This marks a milestone for the Singapore based regional trade association, whose mission is to improve the standard of care for patients through innovative collaboration among stakeholders to jointly shape the future of healthcare in Asia.

“Over the last two years, APACMed has established itself as a key player on the international scene. The association is represented at APEC RHSC as Industry Coalition Lead, and is also a member of GMTA (Global Medical Technology Alliance). It also counts many local associations such as MTAA (Australia), SMF (Singapore Manufacturing Federation) and AMMI (Malaysia) as its members. We look forward to collaborating with the association to achieve our mission to promote regulatory harmonization for medical devices in Asia and beyond”, said AHWP Chair Dr. Hee-kyo Jeong, Director-General of Medical Device Evaluation Department, Korea Ministry of Food and Drug Safety (MFDS).

“We are delighted to be partnering with AHWP. Under the leadership of its Chair, Dr. Hee-kyo Jeong, the AHWP has expanded its memberships and is expected to have an impressive thirty countries as member economies. APACMed’s strength lies in both its broad industry representation, from SMEs to MNCs across the region, and its’ solid relationships with regulatory authorities, health care professionals and academics. We hope that bringing this collective expertise closer to AHWP members, will enable us to make a significant contribution to harmonization and support the regulatory capacity building efforts in the region”, said Fredrik Nyberg, Chief Executive Officer, APACMed.

APACMed was named as Official Liaison Member during the 21st AHWP Annual Meeting held in Cebu, Philippines. The program for this year includes Capacity Building Training; workshops addressing specific topics such as standards and clinical evaluation. In addition, Korea MFDS has sponsored the Korea Regulatory Session for this annual meeting. “We are committed to supporting member economies in the process of developing or establishing a medical device regulatory system, and we hope that sharing our country’s regulatory best practice with them will be beneficial”, explained Dr. Jeong-Rim Lee, TC co-chair of AHWP from Korea MFDS.
